CRONUS

66

Route 66 is forever stretching on. The route West has taken, now '66, is and will be forever striving to stretch onward. The students are always trying to better themselves by preparing for harder roads. They, like Route 66, have side roads: athletics, organizations and clubs. These side roads make the main stretch even more successful. West offers a variety of academics. Its students can be well prepared for any vocation. Another phase, activities, enriches the students too. They learn to live and work, lead and follow, study and play at West. The thrill of being able to contribute to the school's roads of success in the year of '66 makes each student proud to say . . . WEST IS BEST.

IN MEMORIAM

Mr. John Augustus Frederick

July 19, 1918—October 16, 1965

" 'Tis the one who's full of sunshine,
And who genuinely tries,
Who will clear the clouds of trouble
From his own and other's skies."

—Unknown

We Proudly Dedicate . . .

Mr. Frederick, as line coach, observes the situation on the field at the West-Reynolds football game as Jerry Smith receives instructions from the bleacher coaches. The victory over Reynolds was a goal Mr. Frederick had ardently wanted for the West team; they gave it to him.

In the classroom, he taught social studies. He enjoyed his subject, and he enjoyed us, his students. "Coach" had such a superior relationship with his students that he joined us in the laughter over his handwriting which we could barely read. This attitude stemmed from an understanding of young people. He knew their problems and tried to help them solve them. He had confidence in young people and he inspired them. He offered generous praise for a job well done; yet he administered rebukes when they were needed.

Enjoying being a teacher in academics and athletics, he felt teaching on the football field had many things in common with classroom teaching. Along with the fundamentals of good football, teaching the fundamentals of living—hard work, fair play, sacrifice and desire—was a part of his school routine. He helped to set the high standards for athletics at West Forsyth. As athletic director, he was in charge of the school's entire sports program, making schedules and keeping records.

For the love, kindness, affection, and interest in the students, we, THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1966, dedicate this edition of the Cronus to our teacher, coach, and friend:

the late

Cooperating with the photographer, Mr. Frederick poses willingly and presents Jim Bailey the 1965 Football Sportsmanship award.

Mr. Frederick happily awards Lynn Nelson the Cheerleading Sportsmanship Trophy for the 1965 school year.

"Our Name

ALMA MATER

Here's to dear old West High,
Of which we are so proud.
With victory our motto,
Our voices we raise loud.
Our banner raised in Titan praise,
Our name we shall uphold;
So here's to dear old West High,
And her green, her white and gold.
Years after we have parted
Our memories will hold;
Those glorious days at West High,
And her green, her white and gold.

Words by Dean Hege, 1965

Mike Culbreth, president (65-66) of West Forsyth Student Council, repeats oath of office after Hugh Hampton, out-going president.

Earning their Key Club service credits for new inductees, Don Pullease, Steve Hege, and Van Gurganus expertly handle soap and water as they spruce up classroom windows.

We Shall Uphold"

Libby Martin is one of nine examples of the energetic West cheering squad.

West's "Jolly Green Giant" helps promote school spirit. The "Giant" is the baby of the cheerleaders who take him to all athletic events.

"Those Glorious Days

Donna Webb, Judy Pilcher, Robin Fletcher, Gordene McMordie, Terri Todd join in the hearty singing of the Alma Mater.

at West High"

Mr. Richard Vitek, a member of the National Honor Society, speaks on one of the requisites for membership in the organization.

The annual "Green and White Game" presents a preview of the '65-'66 Titan basketball team.

Brenda Barney presides over a weekly annual meeting, while members are taking notes and planning for the '66 yearbook.

"Our Memories

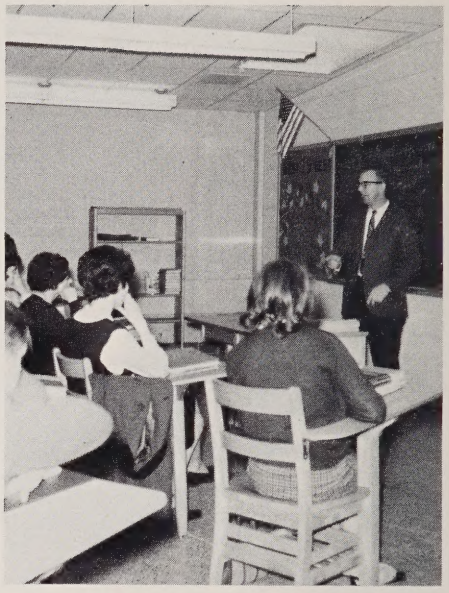
Pat Taylor and John Conrad display their spirit shirts decorated with slogans, phrases, and memorabilia of the Titans. These shirts were worn by West students one day during Spirit Week.



Mr. Underwood lets the seniors work off steam in special group discussions. Welcomed by the soon-to-be graduates, these chat sessions covered many pertinent topics.

Jean Lilly, Susan Dyson and Joyce Cox execute a front-kick step with the other majorettes at a pep rally. The majorettes help promote school spirit by performing at pep rallies and football games.

Memories of dances, football games, pep rallies and fun episodes recall days of joy outside the class room. And this too is a part of the living-learning process.

Just before the Christmas holidays the Dramatics Class presented "Guest House, Very Exclusive." Carol Hobson, Ardith Hankins, Marilyn Sheets, Jacquie Schuyler, Ted Pruett, Gordene McMordie, Eddie Stroble, Ann Rothrock and Carolyn Myers are on stage for one scene of the play.

Will Hold"

"Signing your names on the right spot" is the object of the contest presented by WTOB. Above, George Lee WTOB disc jockey, watches as Jacquie Schuyler and Harry Pendergrass sign the car while others await to autograph the car.

The homecoming court is honored at a dance after the homecoming ceremonies. In the above picture, girls and their escorts dance to the music of the combo.

Tommy Smith, Eddie Frederick, Don Doherty, Vance Hicks and Tom Perry hurl snowballs at unseen opponents (maybe teachers!). The deep snow was quite a temptation.

Thus ends another day at West. Although the students are weary as they leave, they are a step higher in their education.

Student Council Functions Through Committees

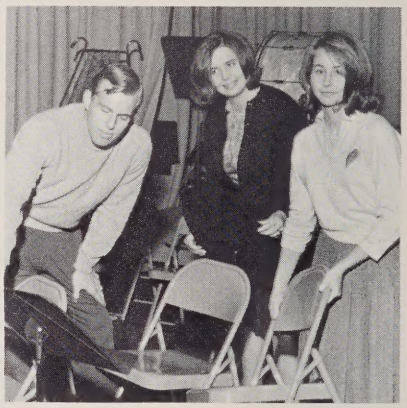
The planning and practice for Student Council work began as early as the summer of 1965 when several meetings were held to form committees and to organize activities. Dianne Chaney, Mike Culbreth, and Mrs. Mary Berridge, sponsor, were the council's representatives to the State Student Council Workshop at Mars Hill College. In November, three officers, Mike Culbreth, Duane Sidden and Kaye Crim attended the State Student Council Congress in Burlington. A Central District meeting of the Area Councils will be held at East Forsyth in the spring.

Although many school functions are carried out each day by the committees, the Council links the students to the school and sponsors many activities. Not only does it sponsor certain assemblies and dances, including the annual Homecoming Dance, but it also carries out special functions such as Orientation, Twerp Week, and Student Recognition Day. By conducting informative homeroom discussions and reports, the Council offers each student an opportunity to use the organization as a megaphone for his voice in school affairs.

STUDENT COUNCIL representatives from the three classes at West Forsyth conduct activities relating to the welfare of the school. They take questions and suggestions from the homerooms to the Council and then return to the homeroom with reports of the Council's actions. First Row — Sophomores: Larry Elsworth, Dana Hill, Pat Templeton, Larry Jones, Kenneth Gabard, Donna Hutchins, Lynn Hough, Hope Stelter, Marsha Foster, Janie Young, Phyllis Legains, Linda Moser. Second Row—Juniors: Duane Sidden, Judy Patton, Sandy Melton, Shelvia Surface, Beverly Winfrey, Penny Ball, Becki Iobst, Kitty-Lynn Chandler, Susan Dyson, John Whitener, Dianne Hendrix, Kaye Crim. Third Row—Mrs. Mary Berridge, sponsor; Seniors: Gail Van Doeren, Gaylan Jessee, Diana Alspaugh, Tommy Webster, Tim Smith, Jimmy Latchford, Mike Culbreth, Charlene Cheatwood, Dianne Chaney, Ann Rothrock.

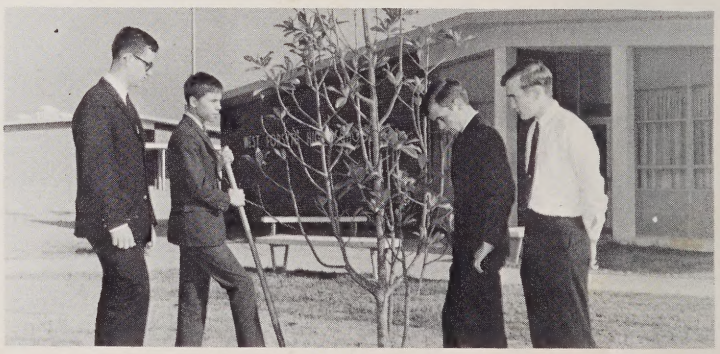
The Constitution Committee of West Forsyth, Mike Ketner, John Whitener, Doug Taylor, Duane Sidden, Rick Jarvis, and Robert Beauchamp, review the laws of the constitution.



Gail Van Doeren heads the committee in charge of planning and presenting assemblies. The members, Ted Pruett, Barbara Pleasants and Gail, straighten the stage for a music assembly.

The Evaluation Committee examines the success of school functions. On this committee are Larry Elsworth, Linda Moser, Jimmy Latchford, chairman; Kenny Conrad, Lynette Patterson, and Sharon Wendt.

Planting a tree (below) and cleaning the grounds are a few of the ways this committee helps to keep the campus attractive. Rick Jarvis, John Whitener, chairman; Duane Sidden, and Jimmy Dix demonstrate one function of the Building and Grounds Committee.



Duane Sidden (center kneeling) explains plans for the Christmas Dance, an activity of the Social Committee to the members. Kneeling: Judy Patton, Sidden, Demetra Milner, John Whitener. Standing: Doug Taylor, Toni Sick, Robert Beauchamp, Diane Foster, Skip Wilson, Sandra Melton, Sharon Horton, Van Gurganus, Lynn Church, Rick Jarvis, Jim Dix, Marty Ladd, Mike Ketner.

Tim Smith leaps with joy after the Follies have been presented, for as chairman of the Follies Committee, he has had many problems.

The officers of the Student Council tell the students "Our Business is Your Problems." Wiley Mock, secretary; Mike Culbreth, President; Duane Sidden, vice-president; seated, Kaye Crim, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Berridge, advisor.

The Booster Committee, Jean Atkins, Beverly Winfrey, Juanita Ledford, Kitty-Lynn Chandler, and Lynette Patterson, autograph the bulletin board which also bears the names of many West students. Chairmen are Kitty Chandler and Beverly Winfrey.

As in the past few years, Mrs. Mary Berridge quietly but firmly advises the Student Council. She is often in consultation with the officers and committees.

Taking inventory, the Finance Committee prepares supplies for the school store which they operate for the Student Council. Beverly Howard and Phyllis Legains follow the instructions of Kaye Crim, chairman.

S. C. Groups Keep Busy . . .

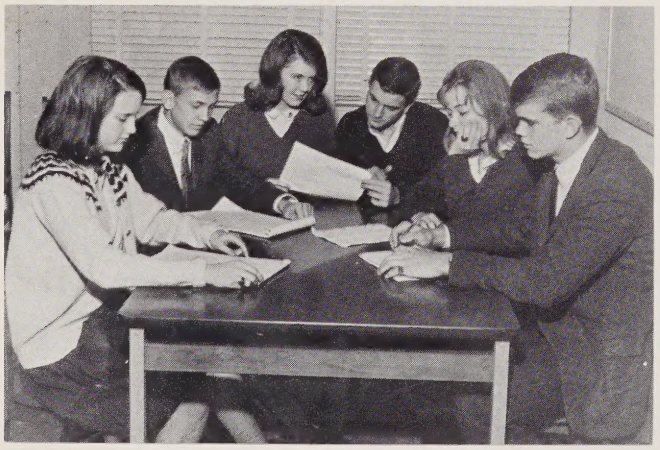
The Hospitality Committee prepares refreshments for social events and takes new students on a tour of facilities for the daily routine at West. Members of this committee are Charlene Cheatwood, Hubert Carpenter, Diana Alspaugh, Dianne Chaney, Ann Rothrock, Kenny Conrad, Sherry Myers, and Van Gurganus. Co-chairmen are Dianne Chaney and Diana Alspaugh.

Susan Dyson and Dianne Hendrix hang a poster announcing the Christmas Dance while Jeanne Lilly, Penny Ball, Mike Baldwin, Danny Tucker and Kenny Nail watch. The Publicity Committee creates interest in dances, sports events and other school functions. Co-chairmen are Susan Dyson and Dianne Hendrix.



The Awards and Scholarship Committee evaluates the grades of Student Council members and office holders of student organizations. They also pick the Students of the Month. On this committee are Kathy Alexander, Gene Nelson, Martha Brewer, Charles Hauser, Diana Alspaugh and Tommy Webster, chairman.

Members of the Bulletin Board Committee, Kathy Adcock, Becki Iobst, Terry James, Donna Hutchins, Marty Hunter, Donna Webb, and Marsha Foster, instill a different mood and atmosphere through the use of dynamic bulletin boards. Chairman is Becki Iobst.

(Below) Ann Rothrock dials while Diana Alspaugh reads the number to her and Charlene Cheatwood prepares the order for flowers. The Sympathy Committee sends remembrances to those who are sick or bereaved. Ann is chairman.

Administrators plot and teachers direct the educational journey of West Forsyth students.

ADMINISTRATION

Directors Set the Pace for School, Students . . .

BUILDING E ADMINISTRATION

A question to Miss Adams, a book from the library, or a dreaded trip to the office keeps students busy. The doors to building E continually open and close as minutes pass.

Mr. Harold E. Simpson

UNC—Chapel Hill
A.B., M.A.

Mr. Simpson, principal at West Forsyth, keeps everyone on his toes. Planning activities and keeping the school in order show his consideration for the students' welfare and his love for West. He is an active member of the State and Local NCEA and the NEA, the NASSP and the Systems Central Committee on Curriculum Revision, and is serving on the 200th Centennial Music Committee.

Mr. Harry L. Underwood

Davidson College, B.S.
George Peabody College, M.A.

Mr. Underwood, West's assistant principal, is on the spot for information and assistance for both teachers and students. In addition to checking absentees and making various reports, he teaches family living classes. In the local NCEA, Mr. Underwood is a member of the Teacher Welfare Committee.

Mrs. Irene Harper

Secretary
Ideal Business College

Always available to give a helping hand, Mrs. Harper, West's secretary, is certainly appreciated by all. Along with her many duties in the school, she is also the vice-president of the local Educational Secretarial Association.

Mrs. Lois Blake McGirt

University of Richmond, B.A.
University of North Carolina, B.S., M.S. in L.S.

Mrs. McGirt, West's competent librarian, served as librarian of the School of Library Science at UNC at Chapel Hill while she was completing work toward her M.S. degree in Library Science during the summer of 1965.

Miss Rosalie Thomasine Adams

Catawba, B.S.
Appalachian State Teacher's College, M.A.

Miss Adams, guidance counselor, is always willing to be of help. She has attended various workshops in the past five years. In 1964 she attended Guilford College for the Guidance Workshop. During 1965 Miss Adams attended the Advanced Counselor's Workshop at UNC-G.

Satisfying Special Needs of Students

Mr. Worth Gray Seats

Catawba, A.B.

At West Forsyth, Mr. Seats teaches Driver's Training. Mr. Seats is secretary of the N. C. Association of Drivers Education.

Mrs. Elizabeth Martin Greene

U.N.C.—Greensboro
B.S.H.E.

Mrs. Greene teaches home economics and is sponsor for the F.H.A. She has attended workshops at UNC-G and the Southwestern University of Oklahoma.

Invading the female realm, Dennis Jordan, Bill Moser, and Rod Binkley learn the use of the sewing machine from Mrs. Greene. Boys in Home Ec. learn cooking, decorating and planning for future activities.

Preparing for an F.H.A. assembly, Miss Huffman plays the piano while Carol Alspaugh looks over the songs the club will sing.

An inspection of Building A reveals classes involved in varied activities of the home and business areas. Gazing into the first room on the right, one sees many boys, seated on high stools behind slanted desks, industriously making sketches for mechanical drawing. In the room directly across the hall many students learn office practice or bookkeeping. Farther down the hall, students seated in wooden chairs behind wooden desks, scribble symbols onto special paper in order to learn their shorthand. The next two rooms are filled with typewriters. Advanced typists use the first room, and beginners' pecks warn of the occupancy of a second room.

Continuing the tour of the building, one quickly notices two large home economics rooms near the end of the hall. The suite of rooms has sewing machines, tables, and kitchen appliances. Many things happen here—from making a dress to drawing house plans. Clearly, future homemakers are preparing for the future. Boys find it interesting, too, to take a course in home economics.

There is still another creative room in this building where the art classes meet. Here creative or abstract ideas are expanded until one is amazed at himself.

Miss Sally Elizabeth Huffman

U.N.C.—Greensboro
B.S.H.E., M.S.H.E.

Miss Huffman teaches home economics and is sponsor of the F.H.A. and the cheerleaders, Varsity and J.V. She currently completed a term as secretary of the North Carolina Home Economics Association. She is also a member of the advisory budget committee. In June of 1965, Miss Huffman served as one of the ten delegates representing North Carolina at the American Home Economics Association's annual meeting in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

for Home and Office

Mrs. Iris Carroll Bridges

Catawba, A.B.

Mrs. Bridges teaches typing and bookkeeping. She sponsors the Junior Marshalls and helps with graduation activities. Mrs. Bridges is also a Building Representative of the local C.T.A. In the summer of '65 she went to New York as a delegate for the N.E.A. convention; she also attended summer school at Wake Forest. In the above picture Mrs. Bridges answers a bookkeeping question.

Mrs. Dorothy Fearrington Russell

Appalachian State Teacher's College, B.S.

Mrs. Russell teaches commercial courses. Included in her duties are courses in office practice, shorthand, and typing. Her office practice students assist in the school office. Above Mrs. Russell instructs Shirley Shutt in typing a letter.

Mrs. Joan Hill Hester

Wake Forest College, B.B.A.
George Peabody College, M.A.

In the Commercial Department, Mrs. Hester teaches typing, shorthand, and general business. Mrs. Hester is sponsor for the F.T.A. Here Mrs. Hester explains the use of the typewriter to Wiley Mock.

Bill Moser, Sherry Myers, Dianne Chaney, Barbara Trout learn how to write checks in bookkeeping.

'Tis Science

West High's science program leads through the fields of general biology, advanced biology, chemistry, physics, psychology, and health. Sophomores are concerned primarily with the study of psychological principles such as osmosis and photosynthesis.

For juniors the science program includes mainly chemistry. Many experiments together with lectures, lab manuals, class discussions, and explorations of atomic and nuclear studies are emphasized throughout the course. Seniors study psychology, physics and Advanced Biology. Psychology students elaborate mostly on the principles of life itself, while physics and Advanced Biology students are concerned with the more advanced forms of scientific principles.

Representatives of General Motors Corporation, Steve Winchell and Bill Kipp, present the program "Previews of Progress" for the student body. The program consisted of demonstrations of recent scientific developments.

Mr. Donald Edward Mauldin

Appalachian State Teacher's College
B.S.

Mr. Mauldin teaches biology and mathematics. He is also wrestling coach, assistant football coach, and assistant track coach.

Mrs. Mary Cornatzer Berridge

Ashbury College
A.B.

Mrs. Berridge teaches chemistry and sponsors the Student Council. She received a Reynolds scholarship for study at UNC—Chapel Hill during the summer of '65. Here Mrs. Berridge explains the mysteries of coils, tubes, and liquids to Demetra Milner.

The psychology class probes the ego and the libido under the stimulation of Mr. Harry Underwood.

Mr. Mauldin begins to lecture his Sophomore biology class about the paramicium.

Mr. Marcus Daniel Allred

Guilford College, A.B.

Teaching biology and U. S. History, Mr. Allred takes time out to coach baseball and assist in coaching cross-country and basketball. In the summer of '65 he attended a workshop at Wake Forest College sponsored by the N. S. F.

Mr. Allred leaves science arena to join the sports arena with the cross-country team.

Igniting the Way for Tomorrow's Scientists

B 103, "Hog Butchers" for West Forsyth. Nan Kimel and Ellen Cumby dissect a baby pig.

Mr. William Franklin Snyder

Appalachian College, B.S.
Wake Forest College, M.A. in Biology

Mr. Snyder teaches biology and Advanced Biology and sponsors the Science Club. He is a member of the Science Curriculum Study Committee of the city-county schools. In '64-65, he attended the B.S.C.S. workshop, and in the summer of '65 he studied at Indiana University under a Reynolds Scholarship.

P.E. Develops Fitness and Stamina

Mr. Maurice E. Young

UNC—Chapel Hill
B.S., M.E.

Teaching biology and physical education, Mr. Young also coaches West's football and track teams. He represents West as an active member of the Physical Education Curriculum Committee.

The parallel bars help boys gain coordination. Tommy Lewis and Mr. Young assist Marshal Bodsford as he executes a shoulder roll.

Miss Cook explains a play to the speedball team while they take a time-out.

Building muscles and strength are the aims of the physical education classes. Football, wrestling, gymnastics, baseball, basketball, soccer, and track are taught to the boys. The girls learn skills and fundamentals of speedball, softball, basketball, ping-pong, and volleyball.

Miss Frances C. Cook

Appalachian State Teacher's College
B.S.

Miss Cook teaches physical education for girls and is the girls' coach for speedball, basketball, volleyball, and softball. She is chairman of the senior sponsors and directs the activities of the class and the sponsors. Miss Cook attended the N.S.F. Biology Institute at Wake Forest College during the summer of '65.

Knowledge and Experience Go Hand in Hand . . .

Mrs. Juanita Hightower Bowser

Breneau College, A.B.

Mrs. Bowser is West Forsyth's distributive education teacher and sponsors the D. E. Club. She attended the Audio-Visual workshop in Winston-Salem and the D. E. workshop at N. C. State, Raleigh, during the summer of '65.

Mrs. Bowers tells Sammy Tilley where to put the Distributive Education Club Convention poster.

Industrial Co-operative Training gives the students on-the-job training in trades and crafts. Distributive Education creates business opportunities by giving students part-time jobs.

Mr. Charles Ogburn Giles

Wake Forest, B.A.
George Peabody College, M.A.

Mr. Giles teaches Industrial Co-operative Training and sponsors the Vocational Industrial Club. He is on the I. C. T. Advisory Committee and the vocational education subcommittee of the high school curriculum study committee.

Mr. Giles explains to Steve Gearren and Doyle Dunn the how's and why's of trade and craft in his I. C. T. class.

Art and Music Teach Students Cultural Appreciation

Mr. John Foreman

Westchester State, B.S.Min.Ed.
Eastmann School of Music, M.M.

Mr. Foreman teaches music and sponsors the musical organizations, participating in activities with the band, majorettes, drill team, and color guard. He was a member of the faculty at the North Carolina Governor's School during the summer of 1965.

Mr. Foreman directs the band in preparation for the Spring Concert.

A chorus of voices and instrumental music float from the open door of the band room.

The sounds from the art room are muted as students create designs and appealing pictures.

Miss Janice Marie Davis

Mitchell, Catawba
UNC—Greensboro, A.B.

Miss Davis, who has an A.B. in English and Art, teaches English IV and Art. In addition to sponsoring the Art Club, she continues her interest in art by introducing and experimenting with the different forms of art, ceramics, and puzzling modern art.

Industrial Arts Employs Hands . . . Minds

Mr. Donald R. Larimore

East Carolina College
B.S.

Mr. Larimore teaches shop and mechanical drawing and coaches the JV football team. In the summer of '64 he was a member of the Curriculum Committee of the Houston (Texas) Independent School District. Above, Mr. Larimore shows Gary Locklear the mechanics of drafting.

Bobby White, Joe Gunning, Jimmy Teague and Jackie Ridings work on a piece of wood—Object: lamp.

Mr. Thomas C. Pratt

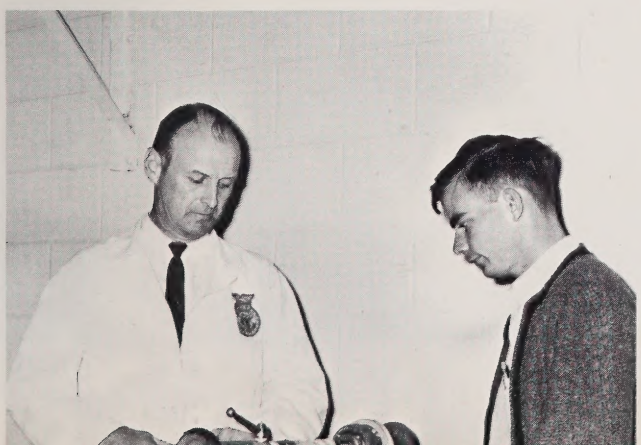
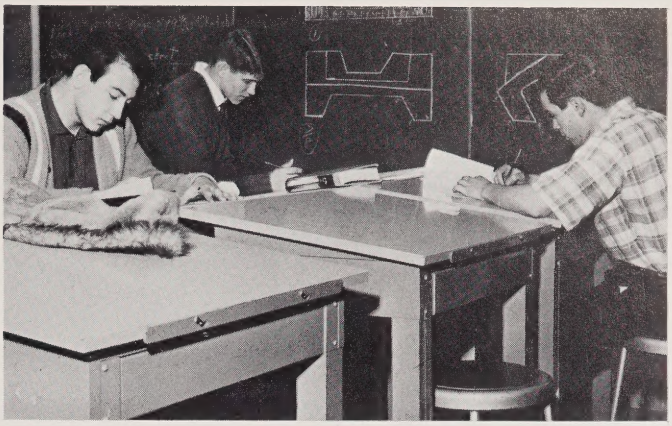
Virginia Polytechnical Institute
B.S.

Mr. Pratt teaches agriculture and shop. He also sponsors the Future Farmers of America, helping the boys learn the essentials of farming. Below, Mr. Pratt shows Terry Harrell the use of a lathe.





"And we thought Mechanical Drawing was a crip course," groan Harry Pendergrass, Larry Matthews, and Rick Holder.

Mr. Luther O. Crotts

N. C. State
B.S.

Mr. Crotts is vocational agriculture teacher at West and has classes at other schools in the county. He has attended numerous agriculture workshops.

Mr. Pratt teaches forestry to agriculture class.

Math Develops

As one walks down the hall of building C, he may hear, "$\frac{1}{x+y}+2=z$," or, "the square root of 196 is 14," or "theorem 49 was Q.E.D." This is the math section of the school. Pre-college math, plane geometry, solid geometry, and Algebra I and II, challenge students of all grade levels. Many figures, charts, symbols, and equations linger in the minds of the students long after the day is over.

Mr. Benjamin L. Brown

N. C. State
Appalachian State Teachers College, B.S., M.A.

Mr. Brown, new to the West faculty, is concerned with computing, calculating, and figuring. He teaches Algebra I, Algebra II, Plane Geometry, Pre-college math, and Physics. Also, he is a member of the Mathematical Association of America.

Gary Conrad, Greg Sloan, Dennis Jordan, and Space Hartman seem happy with the high voltage generator in Physics class.

Mrs. Bonnie Louise Green

College of Wooster, A.B.

Mrs. Green teaches mathematics and directs the many and varied activities of the National Honor Society. She is chairman of the Mathematics Curriculum Committee of the Winston-Salem-Forsyth County Schools. In the late summer of '65, Mrs. Green and her husband made an extended tour of the Far East. In the picture above, Mrs. Green explains the fundamentals of the slide rule to Barbara Peddycord.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Currin

Meredith College, A.B.

Miss Currin teaches Algebra and Consumer Mathematics. This is her first teaching assignment.

Steve Whitaker, Johnny Harrington, and Danny Spaugh, illustrate examples of practional equations in Algebra I.

Logical Thinking

Consumer Math taxes the minds of the students under Mrs. Inabinet's supervision.

Mrs. Charlotte P. Inabinet

Appalachian State Teacher's College
B.S.

Mathematics is the main subject taught by Mrs. Inabinet in her first year at West Forsyth. Her courses include business mathematics, consumer math, geometry, and algebra; she also has a U. S. History class.

Mrs. Maxine Crim Perdue

Salem College
B.A.

Mrs. Perdue has a full schedule of mathematics and dramatics classes. As dramatics teacher, she works hard to present three plays during the year.

Space Hartman, Jacquie Schuyler, and Pat Sapp experiment with geometric art with the aid of Mrs. Perdue.

History at Its Best!

Mrs. Harriet Binkley

Flora Macdonald College
B.A.

Mrs. Binkley teaches Senior Social Studies, United States History and World History.

Mrs. Binkley meets with Van Gurganus, Eddie Frederick and Louise Trivette in one of the small discussion groups in history's team teaching.

Mr. Frank Robinson

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
B.A.

Mr. Robinson teaches U.S. History and Contemporary History. He attended an institute on Communism and Constitutional Democracy at Vanderbilt in the summer of '65.

United States History and World History are taught in both regular and team-teaching classes. In team teaching, days are spent in lectures, small group discussions, library periods, and baffling tests. Seniors taking Contemporary History soon find themselves up to date on current events and participating in lively discussions.

Clem Conrad, center, studies an article before he begins its discussion. Barbara Pleasants, Barbara Peddycord, Sally Jones, and Marvin Nickels are also getting ready to take part in the discussion.

Mr. James Brady Mast, Jr.

Appalachian State Teacher's College
B.S., M.A.

History and P.E. are among the subjects taught by Mr. Mast. He coaches the varsity basketball team and the JV baseball team and is also the football trainer.

The Battle of the Languages

Miss Mary Sue Moricle

Wake Forest College
B.A.

Miss Moricle's first year of teaching includes Latin I, Latin II, and English II. Extra activities include sponsoring the Y-Teens.

Industrious students in Building D work with different languages. The French students are reciting translations. At times the students clasp on earphones and listen to French records as a part of their instruction. Across the hall one can hear the conjugating of Latin verbs. And then there is the translation of Caesar and a study of Roman culture.

Mrs. Sandra Hesketh Howerton

UNC—Chapel Hill
A.B.

The class assignments of Mrs. Howerton's first year at West are English III and French I. She attended the I.S.I.S. Work Program in France in the summer of 1965.

Toni Sick displays souvenirs of her vacation in Paris during the summer of 1965.

Mr. Hiram Vance Jenkins

Wake Forest, B.A.
UNC—Chapel Hill, M.A.T.

Mr. Jenkins' duties in his first year at West include teaching French I and II. He attended the N.D.E.A. Institute for the study of French in the summer of 1965. Mr. Jenkins sponsors the Radio Club, a new organization at West.

Every word in French! A skit in French with Marilyn Hanes and Steve Black performing.

Double, Double Toil and Trouble,

A quick trip through building D—the language building—provides familiar comments and surroundings to the students. Floating from one sophomore English class is, "Let's open our books to Julius Caesar." The next classroom echoes with "We'll do our book reports in a different way today." Of course, the boards are covered with adverbial objectives, objective complements, and basic sentence structures.

Moving on to the junior classes, one hears the familiar, "Well, how did we get on this subject?" Then, "For tomorrow, I want a theme on any color in The Red Badge of Courage." Original poems by the students cover the walls of one English class. Names of poets ring out from everywhere.

Passing by the senior English class, one hears groans—in unison— as the teacher says, "All right, class, now our final test on 30 Days to a More Powerful Vocabulary." Shakespeare's works echo from this class. Reading lists cover the boards.

The Creative Writing class causes — "Class! You're supposed to be writing, no talking! Your short stories are due Monday."

Miss Ruth Ulric Farthing

Appalachian State Teacher's College
B.S.

Teaching sophomore English, Miss Farthing sponsors West's newspaper, Zephyr. She is a member of the Benevolence Committee of the local NCEA and of the Teachers Welfare Committee of the local CTA.

Students listen attentively in a sophomore English class.

Mrs. Susan P. Huffaker

Agnes Scott College
UNC—Chapel Hill, B.A.

Mrs. Huffaker, who has a B.A. in English and History, teaches English II, and sponsors the Drill Team, which performs at football games and marches in parades with the band.

Rick Jarvis leads a discussion on poetry in a junior English class.

Verb, Noun and Adjective Bubble

In Creative Writing class students polish their ideas after much revision.

Mr. Richard John Vitek

UNC—Chapel Hill
A.B.—English

Mr. Vitek, a '60 graduate of Southwest, has returned as a member of the faculty. He spends practically all his time teaching junior English, but in his spare time he sponsors the Key Club and coaches the JV basketball team.

Mrs. Juanita Stainback Clarke

Meredith College
A.B.

Mrs. Clarke teaches English and Creative Writing. She is advisor for the Cronus. As chairman of the Junior Class Sponsors, she helps direct activities of the class.

Kenny Conrad asks, "Did Beowulf really kill that dragon, Grendel?"

Mrs. Maxine Swaringen Mast

High Point College
A.B.

Mrs. Mast teaches senior English and helps with the many senior activities as senior sponsor. Her senior English students long remember Macbeth and "30 Days To A More Powerful Vocabulary."

SENIORS . . .

WITH DECISIONS

WEST'S

Leaders for '66

Officers of the Senior Class step briskly forward to take charge of multiple functions connected with graduation. Gail VanDoeren, secretary; Dianne Chaney, treasurer; Jimmy Latchford, president.

Homeroom presidents are vital links in channeling information between executive council and various class groups. Vice-presidents — Sitting: Sandra Miller, Darlene Allgood, Billie Norman. Standing: Bill Rogers, Charles Hauser, Bill Moser.

The Senior Class of 1966 presently faces the Highway of the Future with hopes and memories. Brought into sharp focus by the mere mention of graduation are the vague directions of the road. What awaits these young adults in future journeys? The avenues to college, work, and service stand ready to be examined and to be traveled if past routes lead in those paths.

The past four years of high school with social activities, pep rallies, ball games, and homework have laid a worthwhile foundation on which to construct a road for the future. The Senior Year has been particularly outstanding as the members confidently assumed the roles of leadership in the extra-curricular activities. Class members earned honors in many areas of competition, and they were enviable examples for the other classes, road signs for the next travelers.

The fear and adjustment of being a freshman, the work of being a sophomore, the activities of being a junior, and the responsibility of being a senior diffuse through laughter and tears. With this concrete "pastness" as a solid basis for the future, the Class of '66 confidently starts into the Highway of the Future.

Juniors—Paths of Responsibility

Junior class officers: Larry Wise, treasurer; Becki Iobst, secretary; John Whitener, president.

Upper classmen at last! The Class of '67 returned to West Forsyth in the fall, happy with its new status and eager to partcipate in the joys and duties of being juniors. The status of the class was determined when they selected class rings to be delivered in the fall of the senior year.

The year was not all classwork, homework and tests, for there were numerous extra-curricular activities available to the Junior Class. Many of the class members participated in varsity sports, cheerleading, enthusiastic service clubs and the student council.

Performing Dracula to finance the Junior-Senior Prom created spine tingling exper nces and memories for the cast, class and audience.

Planning and decorating for the Prom filled back-breaking, enjoyable hours, but the Prom crowned the year a success.

These officers lead the sophomores: Marty Hauser, president; Linda Moser, secretary; and Janie Young, treasurer.

This was the first year in high school for the Class of '68. However, they made rapid adjustments to the high school routine and quickly became good Titans. The sophomores found their way around the sprawling campus, learned ways of six different teachers and were appropriately humble in the presence of upper classmen. Still, they showed vigor and enthusiasm in support of West Forsyth. Their support, led by the J.V. cheerleaders was clearly evident in their loyalty to the J.V. athletic teams. The ability of the Class of '68 to "Pitch in" and help with school projects has made this year a happy and satisfying one. The Class of '68 has become a "Titan" class.

The crowning of Diana Alspaugh as the 1965 Homecoming Queen climaxed the halftime ceremonies of the football game between West and Madison-Mayodan of September 24 at Moody Field. Diana was crowned by Suzanne Jones, the Homecoming Queen of 1964.

The football team selected the girls in the Homecoming Court with each player sponsoring a girl. Later, the entire student body voted for the Queen.

Although 65-66 was West's second year, this was the first true Homecoming, because it was the Homecoming for West's first graduating class.

At the Homecoming Dance, the Court led the activities.

On '65 Homecoming Court

Floating through a world of red valentines and red punch, couples danced their hearts out at the Y-Teen sponsored Valentine Dance, February 12. George Lee, a "Good Guy" from WTOB, was on hand as the Master of Ceremonies and kept the couples dancing and laughing all night. He also gave prizes of cokes and records to the winners of the "freeze" contests during the dancing.

After an hour of dancing, the Valentine Court was presented. The girls on the court were chosen by members of the basketball team. Lynn Nelson and Fred Snow, the 1964-'65 Sweethearts, crowned Judy Fowler and David Ebert, the 1965-'66 Sweethearts.

During intermission refreshments were served to the hungry dancers.

An amusing part of the evening was the announcement of the basketball player with the best looking knees. Jerry Smith, the winner, was given an original statue of a leg.

Chairmen of the dance for the Y-Teens were Jennifer Baskin and Sally Jones. Chairmen of the committees were Debbie Hensley, decorations; Pat Taylor, refreshments; Susan Flora, publicity; and Dianne Foster, entertainment.

Enjoying the Valentine Dance sponsored by the Y-Teens are Lewis Lineback and Rosalene Welcher, Janice Alexander and Harold Shaw, Diane Burgess and Tony Transou, Ken Gabard and Marsha Foster, Linda Shaw and Frank Burgess, Deana Shepherd and Gene Nelson.

Selecting Pictures and Juggling Layouts,

Dianne Hendrix, Business Staff Editor, examines the records of annual sales. Cathie Alexander explains one transaction while Loray Royall types copy.

Staying after school, meetings on Saturday, were not at all unusual for the busy Cronus staff. Capturing the events of the previous school year into a historic record and making the annual become a treasured memory book was a goal that really kept them on their toes.

Ideas on fundamentals of year book layouts, basic headlining, taking pictures for the yearbook, and other year book tips came in from the Press Institute at Chapel Hill. Those attending the Institute were Billie Norman, Martha Brewer, John Conrad, Brenda Barney and Dianne Hendrix. Dianne was treasurer for the Institute in '64-'65. She was elected vice-president of the state for '65-'66.

The Features Staff, which consists of Kathy Hauser, Sandra Miller, editor; and Sharon Horton, covers major events in the school year, such as the Homecoming and Valentine Courts, major dances and outstanding honors and awards.

The Sports Staff prepares layouts of all athletic teams and honors. Its members are Tommy Webster, chairman; Juanita Ledford, and Van Gurganus. Even the snow, evident in this picture, didn't keep them from their work.

Billie Norman (center, seated), editor of activities, advises her staff in the preparation of layouts for this section. The staff includes Sally Jones, Judy Hellard, Terry James, Billie Norman, Becki Iobst, and Gail Van Doeren. These girls cover all organized activities of the student body; they sketch layouts, identify pictures and gather copy.

Tim Smith is the photographer for the Cronus. He snaps posed and unposed pictures all over the campus.

Newspapers Keep

Marian Morgan, editor, and Miss Ruth Farthing, sponsor of the Zephyr, discuss plans for their next edition.

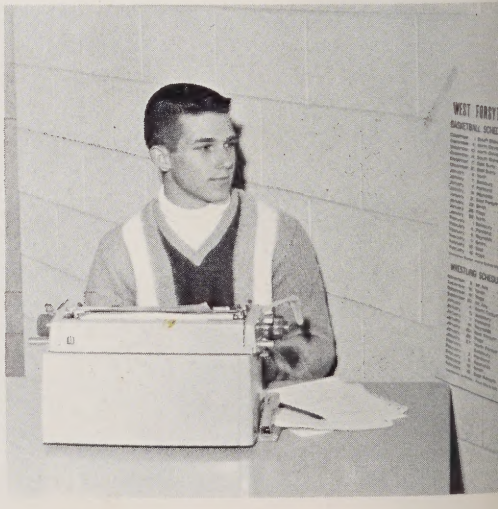
The Zephyr, the newspaper staff of West Forsyth, got started early for the year of '65-'66. In June, Kenney Nail, Marian Morgan, Donna Stroble, Darlene Allgood, and advisor, Miss Ruth Farthing attended the North Carolina Scholastic Press Institute at Chapel Hill. Equipped with valuable information and new ideas, they were ready for work when school opened in the fall.

The staff worked diligently to publish the first issue which was given to all students. Every student received a copy of each of the next four editions.

The members of the Art and Layout Staff, Ellie Ball, Virginia Parks, and Shari Hall, plot the design for a coming issue.

Darlene Allgood, associate editor, assisted in the organization and publication of the zephyr.

Mike Hiatt and Dale Hire check their equipment before photographing for the Zephyr.



Kenny Nail, editor of sports staff, plans assignments for staff members Dianne Jones, Hope Stelter and Libby Martin.

Students Informed

Each member of the Zephyr staff worked hard to give to the school a newspaper which would contain articles of interest to all students. The extensive news coverage gave students informative editorials as well as lively accounts of school events and sports actvities.

Members of the News Staff — Larry Jones, Ted Pruett, Steve Pruett, (sitting) Penny Ball, Gayle Doub, Virginia Parks, Donna Stroble and Nan Illman — interview a new student at West.

Shari Hall, editor of the features staff, collects articles from members of her staff, Billie Kay Holbrook and Kenny Conrad.

CLASS EDITORS — (Newspaper) Jackie Riders checks copy while class reporters Janie Young, Kaye Crim and Bill Rogers write reports.

TYPISTS — Lois Wilmouth, Karen Anderson, Becky Davis and Brenda Frye watch Judy Burger type the news.

Key Men Work,

Excitement mounts as Roger Spach lifts the key to tap new member Clint Clampitt into the Key Club.

Service, the main objective of the Key Club, is rapidly apparent in the activities of the West Forsyth Key Club. They have not only helped the school but also the community. This year's projects consisted of collecting items for the Goodwill, holding assemblies, selling license plates, sponsoring dances and operating concession stands at football games. Eight new members will become part-time school maintenance helpers through their initiations as they sweep the parking lots and wash windows and buses.

Bill Rogers (center) hides his face in shame at being caught working with the grass-cutting Key Clubbers preparing the bleachers for football season. # NHS Triples Membership

Tripling in membership, the National Honor Society counted 1965-1966 as one of its most successful years. Stressing character, leadership, service, and scholarship, the society conducted several projects to carry out the purposes. Students making the quarterly honor roll were publicly recognized and given tags. At the end of the year, an honor roll party was held for those students meeting the requirements. At the fall induction NHS former members, John Vitek, Don Gabard, Kay Garrison, were guest speakers. They clarified the ideals of the organization. The members also follow the progress of previous members of the society throughout their college and professional careers.

Quill and Scroll Rewards Journalists

The Quill and Scroll is the International Society for High School Journalists. The main objective is to encourage and reward individual achievement in journalism and all fields. Members must be juniors or seniors and in the upper third of their class. Each inductee must have done superior work in some phase of journalism at his high school. New members are selected each spring.

The 1965-66 Quill and Scroll members are these: Marian Morgan, president; Darlene Allgood, secretary; Ted Pruett; Nan Illman, vice-president; John Conrad, treasurer; and Miss Ruth Farthing, advisor.

Art Is Fine Creative Outlet

Future Homemakers Improve Their

FHA officers schedule their activities—Billie Norman, president; Sharon Wendt, recreation leader; Sally Jones, vice-president; Shari Hall, reporter; Billie Kay Holbrook, treasurer; Gaylan Jessee, secretary; Gail Van Doeren, historian. Standing: advisors, Mrs. E. Greene and Miss Sally Huffman.

"Jobs, Careers and You", "Make Your Money Behave", and "Morals and Manners Matter" are three state-wide projects that dominated many of the local programs and outside events of the West Forsyth Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America.

In addition to the regular programs the club has participated in many projects this year. One project was dressing dolls for the Christmas cheer program and entering them in competition at the Dixie Classic Fair. Elizabeth Guthrie won the Grand Prize. Thirty-five pre-school children were guests of the club at a Kiddies' party at Christmas. The mothers and fathers of the club members were entertained at a Sweetheart Banquet on Valentines Day. Also the club attended the District Rally in Greensboro and sent outstanding members to the State Rally in Raleigh.

"Twas the night before Christmas . . . . " is read by Billie Kay Holbrook for the FHA Children's Christmas party. Sally Jones and Gaylan Jessee seem as interested as the "little ones."

FHA'ers help some little girls have a merrier Christmas with these dolls the club members dressed and donated to needy children.

School and Community

The varied activities of the West Forsyth Y-Teens enables the group to reach for their goal of realizing in their lives those ideals of personal and social living to which they are committed by their faith as Christians.

In order to raise funds for the year the club sponsored a bake sale in October. In November a pajama party was held in the gym of the Y.W.C.A. Members of the club took part in the World Fellowship Christmas assembly program. The Y-Teens sponsored the Valentine Dance and had an Easter assembly program for the school. The members also took part in a Y-Teens Recognition Service for all the Y-Teens in the county.

Examining the records of their bake sale are the officers of the Y-Teens: Sharon Wendt, president; Dianne Chaney, vice-president; Miss Mary Sue Moricle, advisor; Leslie Wafford, treasurer; Donna Stroble, secretary.

Y-Teen members Becki Iobst, Susan Flora, Kathy Hauser, Sharon Horton, Donna Webb and Beth Pratt work enthusiastically to publicize the Valentine Dance.

The senior members of the Y-Teens make preparations for the Valentine dance. Roselyn Bell, Loray Royall, Dianne Chaney, Sharon Wendt, Sally Jones, Sherry Myers, Sharon Messick, Kathy Walker, Pat Holleman, Cheryl Ball, Pat Taylor, and Phyllis Beck.

Virginia Parks, Susan Rice, Marty Sue Martin, Judy Fowler, Cheryl Johnson, Frandie Wiggins, Becky Scott; and (Back) Jenny Baskins, Diane Chaney, Kathy Flowers, and Sally Jones—all these Y-Teens offer tasty goodies for sale to swell the purse of the group.

Jimmy Huffman is ready to drive the tractor for an FFA task.

The FFA Club is one of the school's hardest working clubs. At the first of the school year the boys installed some new bleachers at the Southwest football field and put up a chain encircling the field. They used an exhibit about the FFA in the Dixie Classic Fair. They sowed grass and prepared the baseball diamond for West. They also set out trees in the parking lot. They worked on picture frames and built five coat racks. For entertainment the boys went on a hayride in October.

Useful Tasks

Rick Jarvis, president, explains thermodynamics to the other officers—Kathy Walker, secretary; Mike Hough, vice-president; and Eddie Stroble, treasurer.

Igniting the Way for Tomorrow's Scientists

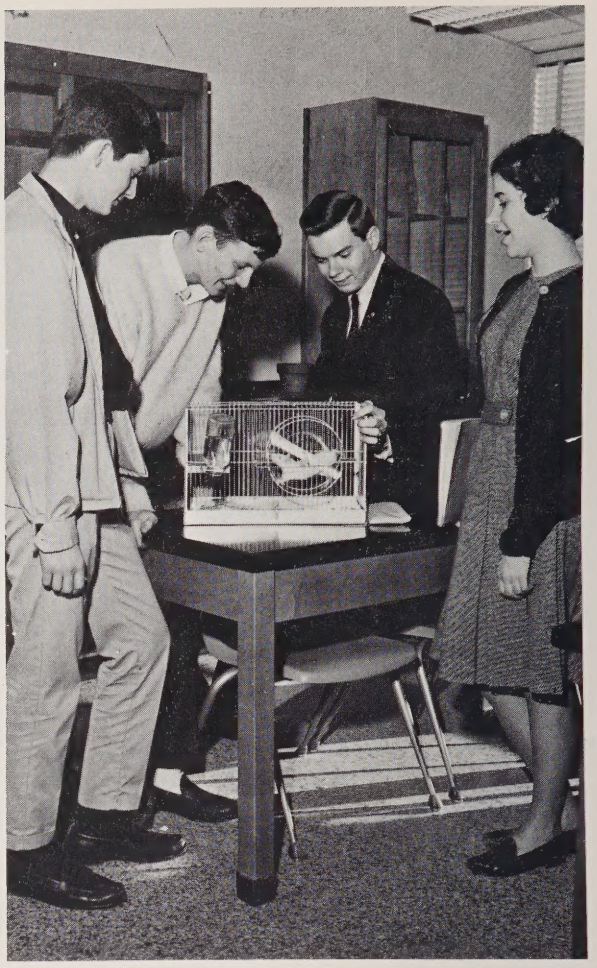
Many of the scientific curiosities of the West Forsyth students are being satisfied by the Science Club. In the weekly meetings are stimulating programs and discussions on volcanoes, hurricane modification, and extra-sensory perception. Programs also include outside speakers such as the representative from the Forsyth County Sheriff's Department. Club members have visited the Nature Science Club on Reynolda Road.



Johnny Walker, Joe Shutt, Mike Hough and Jackie Roundtree encourage the white rat as it runs the exercise drum.

Club Proves Math Is Fun

Special programs and films dominate the meetings of the Math Club at West Forsyth. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Maxine Perdue, the club delves into such topics as infinity and large numbers. Through these programs, the club members not only broaden their knowledge of mathematics but also realize its recreational value.

The Geometric Timeline attracts the Math Club officers and sponsor. Toni Sick, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Maxine Perdue, sponsor; Wiley Mock, president; Billy Wood, vice-president.

Examining mathematical symbols are these Math Club members: Kaye Crim, Greg Sloan, Jackie Roundtree, Peggy Bolick, Rick Jarvis, Neal Synder, Billy Wood, Phil Harmon, Gary Conrad, Steve Black, and Steve Pruett.

Seated is Sharon Messick, president; and seated at the desk other officers are—Standing: Terry James, reporter; Shari Hall, historian; Brenda Robbins, treasurer; Sherry Myers, vice-president; Dianne Chaney, secretary.

Teachers' aides—this is really the title for this group, for they seek ways to ease teaching cares. The FTA club members assist many of the teachers in tasks such as grading papers and copying reports. Teachers are honor guests at coffee hours given by the club. For Post High School Day club members were Miss Adams' helpers as hostesses for the event.

On November 13 the annual FTA convention was held at Wake Forest College, and most of the FTA'ers attended to learn more of their responsibilities and goals as Future Teachers of America.

Near Christmas the group also remembered the teachers with small gifts.

Mrs. Joan Hester is faculty advisor for the group.

The West Forsyth Distributive Education Club attends school for four classes in the morning and then leaves for on-the-job training. The functions of the organization are many and last throughout the year. At the beginning of the year, the officers attended a training program. Taking on a big job, the West Forsyth DE students were hosts for the District V Convention on October 27. The club participated in job interviews and the DECA Sweetheart Contest at the convention. At Christmas the club gave bags to underprivileged children in some Winston-Salem/Forsyth County Schools. Later in the year the club made field trips, gave demonstrations, and participated in the N. C. State Leadership Conference.

There are not too many "W" wearers at West Forsyth since this is just the second year of the existence of the school. But these who do wear the W are "mighty Titans", as the Alma Mater states. The boys are not content to rest on their laurels of earning their letter for they channel their energies for the operation of the concession stand for various school functions. Their main project this year was securing a plaque to be dedicated to the late Mr. John Frederick. Mr. Gus Young is the faculty advisor for the club.

Meistersingers

The Meistersingers is composed of eighty voices and its repetoire includes religious, classic and modern jazz music. The first performance of the chorus was at the District Rally for the Distributive Education clubs. A successful Christmas concert was presented for the parents and then repeated for the Student Body. Dana Weaver was honor soloist. During the student presentation Mr. John Foreman and chorus were given a standing ovation. The Meistersingers sang at several churches and presented the annual spring concert.

Early in the summer the Titanides started practicing long and hard for the coming football season. Many weeks were spent learning the routines and marches choreographed by Marianne McTear and Pat Spaugh. But the hours spent rehearsing proved rewarding as the drill team performed with precision and perfection at the football games. The Titanides, with Mrs. Susan Huffaker as sponsor, established a permanent place in the tradition of West Forsyth High School.

Pep and Spirit Girls

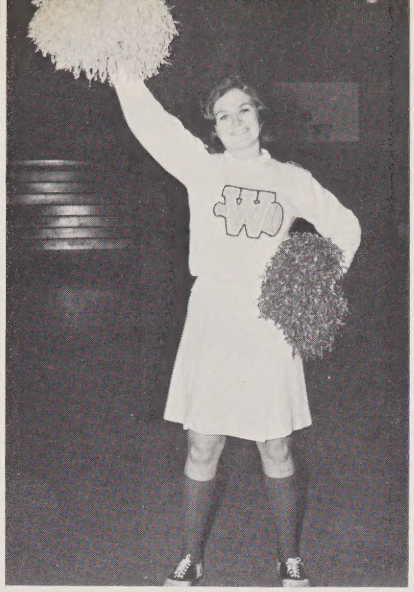
Look for spirit, support and service, and behind it all you will find the West cheerleaders. These girls have really worked this year. Staying after school three times a week not only perfected their routines but spread spirit during and after school. They sponsored after-game dances, school-spirit week, and in November they climaxed the Christmas parade by bringing Santa Claus.

Wicked witches of West—Dianne Hendrix, Lynette Patterson, and Libby Martin—are brewing up a victory over Reynolds. The witches clutch their sticks and chant the voodoo words.

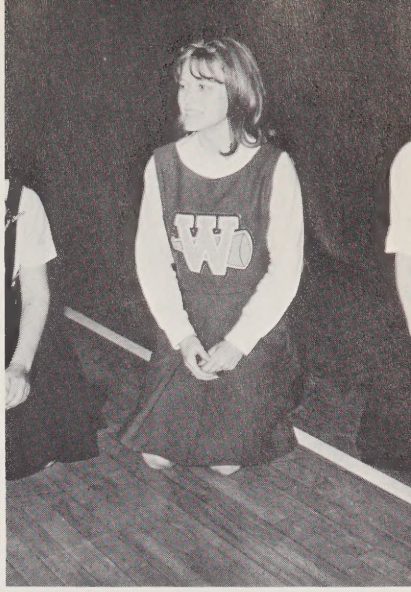
Chief Cheerleader Charlene Cheatwood yells, "Gimme a 'T'!" to the cheering section.

Jean Atkins yells for victory.



Judy Patton hails West with the colorful green and white shakers.

Libby Martin's jumps high for West!



For Gaylan Jessee "happiness is half-time."

Always Full of Vitality

The high-stepping majorettes are Mary Anne Settle, Marty Hunter, Susan Dyson, Lynda Beck, Diana Alspaugh, Jeanne Lilly, Joyce Cox, Pat Spach, Dana Weaver, Carol Alspaugh.

Being a majorette is a year-round job. Their hard work began early this summer when they held a car wash and sold doughnuts to raise funds for new fire batons and new uniforms. The fire batons were used during the half-time performances at the football games, and the new forest green uniforms with skirts to match were worn on pep rally days. Both exhibitions stirred the school spirit.

Hours of preparation went into each new routine and extra time was spent preparing for the Winston-Salem Christmas parade, the Follies and the Spring Concert.

New Titans Yell Like Veterans

"What have you got? Titans!!"

"Our team's better than your team."

The hard-working JV cheerleaders spent many energetic hours practicing new routines. They led cheers every Thursday afternoon during the football season and at all of the night games during the basketball season. Wearing new green corduroy uniforms, the peppy lassies stimulated the athletes and the spectators with their rousng cheers and routines.

"April in Paris" — a lilting song yet a lovely remembrance — was the theme of the '65 Junior-Senior Prom. Prom goers entered the transformed gymnasium through the Arc de Triomphe. In the center of the room was the Effiel tower around which dancers mingled and floated to tuneful French music. Soft lights from street lamps illuminated the sidewalk cafes. Under the striped canopies were tables covered with white cloths decorated with imitation champagne bottles holding blue candles. In this blue and white Parisian atmosphere, the juniors and seniors relaxed and enjoyed French-like refreshments and entertainment.

Titans Tie for Third Place in 4-A Central

West Forsyth co-captains Mike Culbreth and Jerry Smith led the Titans to third place finish in 4A Central Football.

A 5-2 conference record and a tie for third place in the 4-A Conference, highlighted an exciting year of football at West Forsyth. This was the Titans' first year in the 4-A and they came out mightier than ever with victories over highly touted teams. While winning the mythical county championship in the 4-A, the Titans won only one of the three games against teams outside the conference. They finished the season with a 6-4 overall record.

The season began with a bang as West met Reynolds, the defending State 4-A champions. The game was played at Bowman-Gray stadium with West the decided underdog. The first half began along the same lines as the game last year when West lost to Reynolds, for both years the half-time score being Reynolds 7, West 0. This year, however, led by Marty Ladd, Mike Kraft and David Williams, the Titan defense held Reynolds to one touchdown in the second half. With the defense pressuring Reynolds, Jerry Smith plunged for a one-yard touchdown, making the score 7-6. Reynolds then scored again and had a 13-6 lead. But Mike Culbreth and Richard Bowen teamed up to block a punt and score a touchdown, tying the score. A few minutes later Culbreth blocked another Reynolds punt and Smith ran it from the 10-yard line. This 19-13 victory earned team-of-the-week honors for West.

Tragedy struck West the next week when Coach John Frederick died. In respect to this great man the game with North was postponed till the next Monday night. West played a strong game on defense and held the Vikings to one touchdown, but the Titans could manage only one themselves. Fred Snow caught a pass from Jerry Smith; a wide field goal attempt for West, and the Vikings' extra-point gave North a 7-6 victory.

Larry Cain and Dink sparked West to its first homecoming win. The play was slow until midway in the first quarter when D. Smith grabbed a Madison-Mayodan punt on his own 35 and returned it 65 yards behind some beautiful blocking. After this score, Larry Cain took over and scored three touchdowns. Two of these came on runs of 56 and 5 yards, the other was a 33-yard pass from Jerry Smith. Steve Hege led an unyielding West defense with help from Tommy Webster, Marty Ladd and Mike Culbreth. The final score was West's game, 25-0.

Cain once again smelled touchdown glory and earned honors as top player in the prep honor roll when West met Parkland. Bob Lipper wrote: "Cain is a slightly built young man who wears glasses and looks somewhat like the kid next door who's been working on his school science project." This appearance is deceiving as was shown by his three touchdown barrage which led West to a 20-12 come-from-behind victory over Parkland. Cain stood tall, but it wasn't all his night, for plays by Jerry Smith and David Williams aided the mighty Titans to victory.

West was moving strong with a 3-1 record, but for the next three weeks things were pretty gloomy. The Titans left for Salisbury with heads high but came home with them low, because the Yellow Jackets had beaten them 19-6. The game was played in the rain that night. Kenny Nail and Joe Boone were bright spots for the Titans as they led the only scoring drive.

North Davidson scored three touchdowns against the Titans the next week, but had to stop a West drive in the fourth quarter to win 19-13. Larry Cain started at quarterback, but Coach Young moved him to halfback and Jerry Smith to quarterback. Smith led a drive for West, and after Don Harper blocked a punt, Smith ran for a touchdown. Later the scrappy West defense held the Black Knights on the Titans' one-yard line when Smith took over again. Smith then ran twice for 12 yards and passed twice to Cain, putting the ball on the 50-yard line. Another pass play put the ball on the 32-yard line. Time ran out as the Titans tried to run another play.

Just being a coach is not enough—he must also be a psychologist. Gus Young, head coach, and Don Mauldin, assistant coach, combined both jobs well.

Massaging bruised muscles and taping legs, arms, and even heads, are the special assignments of the well-equipped Titan trainers. Manager Tony Hutchens checks equipment and performs odd jobs for the team. Standing: Trainers, Keith Dunn and Mike Ketner; Sitting: Trainers, John Collins and Barry Harper; and Manager Tony Hutchens.

Season Starts with Victory over Reynolds

Joe Boone (30) watches as Coach Mauldin explains things to Mark Southern (74) and Duane Sidden.

Against Davie County, Jerry Smith and Larry Cain led a determined Titan team; they had much help from Gray Crater and Tommy Webster. The game was all defense until the Rebels broke loose with 33 points, giving West its third straight set-back in three weeks.

The Titans got on the winning side once more when they met Greensboro Smith. Jerry Smith again led the offense as he passed to Fred Snow for one touchdown and ran for another. A stout Titan defense led by Joe Boone, Tommy Webster and Charles Hauser held Greensboro to one touchdown. Larry Cain scored the final touchdown giving West a 21-7 victory.

West made it a two-in-a-row win by beating East Forsyth for the first time. Larry Cain and Jerry Smith led the Titans with some beautiful running. East scored first, but the Titans came back with a 77-yard march —Larry Cain running behind the effective blocking of Richard Bowen and David Williams. The next time West got the ball they marched 70 yards, sparked by a 32-yard run by Jerry Smith who was sprung into motion by a key block of Gray Crater. The drive was capped by a 35-yard scoring play from Cain to Fred Snow. Smith then kicked his second extra point which proved to be the margin of victory.

In the game with Greensboro Page, Jerry Smith led the Titans in their best offensive showing. Jerry passd 275 yards for four touchdowns, two of these to Fred Snow. Also Smith ran for another touchdown. Larry Cain led the rushing that totaled 130 yards. Cain scored twice on a one-yard run and a 21-yard pass from Smith. Smith's fourth pay-dirt pass was to Gray Crater for 11 yards. The Greensboro paper wrote, "Page couldn't have stopped Smith and West even if they had had the National Guard." This victory gave West a tie for third place in the conference, but lost a chance in the play-offs as Lexington was voted in.

All of West's glory did not end with the closing game of the season. Jerry Smith, Mike Culbreth and Larry Cain were voted to the All City-County Team and Coach Young was runner-up for coach-of-the-year honors. Smith and Culbreth later made the Central 4-A first team all-conference, and Tommy Webster and Mike Kraft received honorable mention.

Jerry Smith then capped off a great year as he was given the Thom McAn award as the top player in Forsyth County. This year was an exciting and glorious one for West in its first year in the 4-A Conference.

Team Efforts Put West in Win Column

SWIFT and reliable, the hard fighting backs capitalize on the breaks provided by team efforts. Kenny Nail, Joe Boone, Don Harper, Danny Tucker, Jerry Smith, Larry Cain, Dink Smith, Dennis Powell, and Ted Dillard.

HOLDING fast to their positions, the wise guards were important assists in each game. Mike Sloan, Mark Southern, Tommy Lewis, Avery Dunn, and Charles Hauser.

SNAPPING the ball to the quarterback properly is the essential job of the centers. Steve Hege and Mike Culbreth.

THE ENDS hauled in passes as their part in team play. Duane Sidden, Joe Shutt, Tommy Webster, Fred Snow, and Marty Ladd.

OPENING up the holes for the backs to make valuable yardage were these sturdy West tackles: Roger Bedsaul, David Williams, Richard Bowen, and Mike Kraft.

Season Starts Strong

The Titans started the season victoriously, winning the first 5 of 7 games. On the home court the Titans were unbeatable until the team was upended by Reynolds, 62-61.

Snow caused a long lay-off and the Titans had some difficulty getting back in top form. During this spell, the team dropped three 1-point decisions and one very important one to Salisbury in overtime. But West finally displayed the type of ball they were capable of playing and pulled an upset by defeating East Forsyth 62-57. This defeat knocked East out of the 4-A tournament. All five starters for the Titans scored in double figures in this sweet victory.

David Ebert, Jerry Smith and Mike Culbreth, tri-captains, led the team. Ebert is a good driver and Smith is an excellent ball handler. Both are very effective outside shooters. Culbreth is a strong rebounder, holding school record with 17 rebounds; he also shoots well.

Junior forwards Butch Robertson, Steve Hire and Robert Cheek frequently scored in double figures, contributing to the Titans offense. Their best performances were 23, 20 and 25 points, respectively.

Gene Nelson and Van Gurganus provided the Titans with strong reserves. Other players that sparked the Titans were Bobby Loftin, Eddie Frederick, Frank Wilmoth and Terry Duggins.

Despite a losing season, the JV's never despaired and fought hard during each basketball game. They maintained high spirits and cooperated with each other during practices and games. TEAM — First Row: Roland Douthit, Ronnie Copeland, Tim Reynolds, Marty Hauser, Rusty Hauser; Second Row: Andy Stockert, Dewitt Hauser, Johnny Harrington, Danny Atkins, Kenny Scales; Third Row: Jimmy Smith, manager; Steve Poe, Billy Sprinkle, Larry Peak, Lee Hauser, Ken Harper, Mr. Richard Vitek, coach.

Let's Go to the Mat!

West Forsyth's wrestling team under Coach Don Mauldin completed their first year in 4-A conference with a 4-10 conference record and 6-10 overall record. The lower weight classes were the strongest parts of the team and produced most of the points.

Paced by Larry Cain and Joe Boone, Co-Captains, and Danny Tucker, Wayne Beauchamp and Steve Holt, the Titans won over Mount Airy, East and Parkland twice during the year. The wrestlers provided many exciting meets; in the meet of the 13 matches with Page, there were four draws, a decision for each team and split pins.

West wrestlers went to the sectionals at Reynolds for individual competition. At this event, seven West boys won the right to enter the state event at Salisbury. Going to Salisbury were Steve Holt, Don Pullease, Wayne Beauchamp, Danny Tucker, Larry Cain, Ted Pruett, and Floyd Boyer. Of this group only Larry Cain advanced to the quarterfinals.

Paved, unpaved — any runnable terrain — is the territory of the Cross Country Team. Participating in singular and triangular events, West was victorious over North Forsyth, Parkland, and Greensboro Smith. The team also was a part of the State meet held in Chapel Hill in the fall.

Jimmy Latchford was consistently among the first five finishers for the Titans. Points for Cross County events are given to the first five finishers on each team.

Robert Cheek and Robert Beauchamp hang close in race with North.

Relaxing before a race is the tactic used by Van Gurganus, Larry Wise, Hampton Morgan and John Whitener.

'65 Baseball Team Ties for Second Place

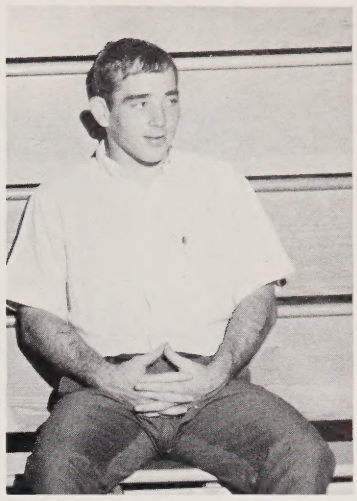
Co-Captain Jerry Smith



Co-Captain Eddie Hauser

The '65 Team: First Row: David Williams, Van Griffith, Dink Smith, Tommy McCulloh, Fred Snow, Danny Tucker, Ronnie Scharff, Donny Plemmons. Second Row: Mike Lawson, Mike Kraft, Kenny Conrad, Wayne Beauchamp, Jerry Smith, Steve Hire, Mike Saunders, Mr. Marcus Allred, Coach. Not pictured: Steve Etchison, Harold Lawing, Ray Tuttle, Eddie Hauser, and Gray Crater.

The Best Sport Award was presented to Mike Saunders.

Coached by Mr. Marcus Allred, the West Forsyth baseball team of '65 tied for second place in the conference with a 6-6 record.

Dropping the opening game to East Forsyth, West won the next two games with North and Griffith. Then West hit a temporary slump with a loss to East and two losses to North. Hitting the victory trail again, the Titans chalked up four straight wins: two over Griffith and one each over North and East. As the season ended, West suffered losses to East and Griffith. In tournament play, Reynolds eliminated West, 1-0.

Pitchers Jerry Smith and Fred Snow split hurling honors, each having three wins and three losses in regular season play. Jerry Smith had the highest batting average.

Jerry Smith was awarded a trophy as Most Valuable Player.

TITANS ON THE RUN

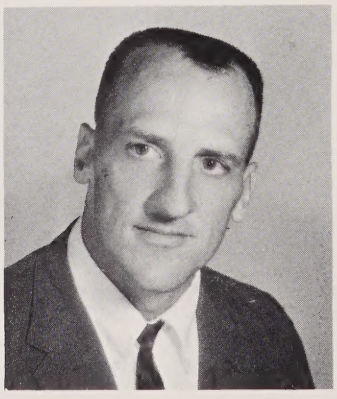
Johnny Stewart was voted Most Valuable Player.



Mr. Gus Young, head coach of the running Titans.

West Forsyth went to Hanes Park for the annual City-County track meet as decided underdogs. After the scores were posted, the Titans, with a strong team effort, had finished second.

Large track meets proved to be right up West's alley. In the sectionals Johnny Stewart played in three events, first in high hurdles, second in 440, and ninth in the broad jump. Terry Duggins won the low hurdles and placed second in high hurdles. Barry Quinn finished second in the 880-yard run. These three performances placed West third in sectionals.

Stewart and Duggins went on to finish fifth and sixth respectively, in the high hurdles at the State Meet. Both competitors continued their heroics in the decathalon as Stewart finished first and Duggins third.

Johnny's performances won him the most valuable player award and Jimmy Latchford won the Best Sport.

J.V. BASEBALL

David Williams starred for the West J.V. '65 baseball team with a record making no-hitter game against North. This game, the last of the season, was the team's only win in eight starts. Playing four games each with North and East, the J.V.'s showed marked improvement during the season.

Mike Kraft shared pitching duties with Williams. Larry Wise and Don Harper led in batting average for the West J.V.'s coached by Mr. Jim Mast.

'65 VOLLEYBALL CHAMPIONS

These girls did prove "practice makes perfect."

Kaye Crim served as the team's scorekeeper.

Conference Volleyball Champions was the title earned by the '65 Volleyball Team of West Forsyth. The girls had a nearly perfect record, winning 36 of 38 games and all 12 matches. Teams from Children's Home, East Forsyth, Gray, Reynolds, Griffith, and North Forsyth were defeated easily as the West players took each of the two matches played with each of the other teams.

Captains were chosen for each game. Kaye Crim kept the records for the team which was coached by Miss Frances Cook. Players voted Susan Huffstetler as the Most Valuable Player; the Best Sport award went to Janie Burwell.
